This At-Home Activity packet includes two parts, Section 1 and Section 2, each with 5 lessons in it. We recommend that your student complete one lesson each day.

Children will need the support of an adult or older student to complete these lessons, unless they can read independently.

Encourage your student to just do the best they can with this content—the most important thing is that they continue to work on their reading!

Independent Reading!

Use the questions/prompts on the Discourse Card resource to start a conversation about something the student has read. You may talk about a text the student read in one of the lessons above, or anything else the student is reading.

Encourage daily reading. And remember, reading isn’t just about the books on the shelves—it’s about anything around you with letters! Turn on the closed captioning feature on your TV or read catalogs that come in the mail. The backs of cereal boxes work, too, as do directions to board games!

Running out of stuff to read? Grab some sticky notes, and label household objects, or make up new, silly names for things! Communicating with sticky notes, instead of talking, is fun, too—start with a half hour and see if you can go all afternoon. Reading is everywhere!

Don’t worry about right/wrong answers when you talk about text—the important thing is that you and your student share a reading experience and have fun!

Here are some websites that offer fun, free, high-quality material for kids:

A character is a person or an animal in a story.

When you are reading or listening to a story, ask:

- What do the characters say?
- What do the characters do?
- How do the characters feel?

Asking questions about characters helps you understand the story.
How the Camel Got His Hump

by Stephen Krensky
There was once a lazy camel that lived near the desert. He did not live alone.

“Help us gather the hay,” said a horse. “If we wait too long, the wind will blow it away.”

“Humph!” said the camel. He did nothing.
“Help us collect sticks for the fire,” said a dog. “Cold nights are coming.”

“Humph!” the camel said again.

“Help us plow the field,” said an ox. “We need to grow food.”

“Humph!” said the camel. He did nothing.
The next day, a genie came. He said, “I feel something is wrong. What is it?”

“The camel doesn’t help,” said the horse.

“We do all the work,” said the dog.

The ox nodded. “He just stands around.”

The genie said, “Let’s see about that.”
Then the genie appeared next to the camel.

“You need to change your ways,” he said.

“Humph!” said the camel.
“Is ‘humph’ all you can say?” the genie asked.

“Humph! Humph! Humph!”

“Very well. I will give you a ‘humph’ that you will always remember!” the genie yelled.
The genie waved his arms. The camel’s back began to puff up. Soon, a big “humph,” or hump, stuck out.

“From now on, your hump will remind you of one thing,” the genie said. “You care only for yourself.”

And camels have had humps ever since.

How the Rhinoceros Got His Skin
by Charlie Wilder
One day a baker made a plum cake. “I’m so happy!” he cried. “It’s perfect!”

But just then, a rhinoceros came along. He was big and did whatever he wanted. So he gobbled up the cake and moved on.

Only a few crumbs were left.
“You destroyed my perfect cake!” the baker shouted after him. “You will pay!”
The next morning was hot, and the rhinoceros went down to the river. In those days, rhinos had smooth skin with buttons.

The rhino undid the buttons and took off his skin. Then he went swimming.
The baker saw the rhinoceros’s skin lying on the ground.

“Hee, hee!” he laughed. He had an idea.

The baker gathered the cake crumbs from the perfect plum cake. He dropped them inside the rhino’s smooth skin.
When the rhino came out of the river, he put his skin back on. His skin tickled. And it itched!

The rhinoceros rolled around. He rubbed against a tree. His skin got rumpled and wrinkled.

But the itching did not stop.
Soon, his rubbing broke off the buttons. The rhinoceros couldn’t take off his skin anymore.

From that day on, every rhinoceros has had folds in its skin – and a bad temper, too.

Birds Build BIG

by Amy Kraft
Have you ever been in an apartment building? It is a big building with many small homes inside it.

Some birds make nests this way, too. They are called weaver birds.
Weaver birds live in the desert in Africa. These little birds build BIG nests. More than 400 birds might live in one nest!

Each bird family has its own room. The birds make tunnels to connect the rooms. The nest is like an apartment building.

This nest has many small rooms inside it.
Weaver birds work together. They use straw to make a nest. The birds stuff straw into the sides and bottom of the nest. This makes the nest bigger.

The birds work on a nest for years. One nest might be as big as your classroom!

Many weaver birds work together on a nest.
A big nest protects weaver birds and their eggs. Snakes and hawks want to eat the eggs. The sharp, spiky straw in the big nest keeps them away.

The spiky straw keeps the snake out.
The big nest makes shade that keeps the birds cool. Feathers and grass in each room keep the birds warm. Rain runs off the slanted roof. The birds stay dry.

Weaver birds know how to work and live together. They know how to build big.

Ant City
by Roscoe Harvey
Would you look down or up to find a city of ants? In the rainforest, look up. An ant city might be in the trees!

Weaver ants build nests in trees. A nest can be as big as a soccer ball. An ant city might have 100 nests. A half million tiny weaver ants might live there.

There are two weaver ant nests in this tree.
Weaver ants work in teams to build nests. The worker ants pull leaves together. They use their mouths and legs. The ants are strong.

A team of ants works together.
If a leaf is too far away, the ants crawl over each other. Each ant grabs the middle of another ant. They hold each other up. It is an ant chain!

More ants go across the chain to get to the next leaf. Then the ants pull the two leaves together.

The ants are making an ant chain.
Now the worker ants wait. They need help. Soon other ants come. They bring worms that have hatched from ant eggs.

Each ant taps and squeezes its worm. The worm makes sticky spit. The spit is like glue. It sticks the leaves together. Leaves and spit make a good nest.

An ant squeezes a worm.
Each nest is part of a whole city of ants. The ants build an ant city in the trees.

The Chicken That Laid the Golden Eggs
by Anna Nowak
Jasper was a gold miner. He went to Alaska to dig for gold. Jasper dug and dug. But he did not find any gold.

One day, Jasper found a chicken. Jasper said, “Maybe my luck is changing.”

Jasper’s luck did change! That chicken laid a golden egg!
“Gold! I found gold!” Jasper bragged. The other miners got mad. They had not found any gold.

The next day, Jasper’s chicken laid another golden egg. Jasper went to brag again. But the other miners did not listen. They had found a lot of gold.
Jasper was jealous. And he was greedy. He wanted more gold. Jasper yelled at the chicken. “I want ALL your golden eggs now!”

The next day, the chicken laid a new egg. This egg BROKE when Jasper grabbed it.

“This is not a golden egg! Where is my golden egg?” Jasper yelled.
Jasper tried being kind. He fed the chicken the fattest worms. He let it sleep in his bed.

But it was too late. The chicken laid an egg each day. But it did not lay any more golden eggs.
Jasper got tired of eating eggs. The eggs piled up. They got rotten and smelly. Jasper shouted at the chicken, “You must have more golden eggs! Lay them for me.”

The chicken squawked and flapped away. “Fine!” Jasper said. Then he went to sleep.
Jasper was hungry when he woke up. He looked for the chicken. He wanted an egg.

But the chicken had gone away. Now Jasper had no new eggs of any kind.

So he traded his two golden eggs for a ham sandwich and a train ticket out of Alaska.
Draw or write.
The setting is when and where a story takes place.

When you are reading or listening to a story, ask:

- When does the story take place?
- Where does the story take place?

Thinking about the setting helps you understand the story.
The Tallest Girl in the Jungle
by Melissa Sarno
Ana was the smallest girl in her class. Her friends teased her all the time. “Ana, you are so short! We can not see you over the grass,” they laughed.

The tall grass tickled the top of Ana’s head.
Ana frowned. She hated being teased for being small. She looked up at the sky and listened. Monkeys chattered. Birds tweeted. She wanted to join them. She wanted to be as tall as the towering trees.

Ana had an idea. “Wait until you see how tall I can be,” she called to her friends.
Ana stepped into the trees. She saw a long, thick hanging vine. She reached for it.

“I am going to climb,” she said.

Ana grabbed the vine with her hands. She pulled herself up. She used her feet, too.
“Wow! Look at her go!” the kids shouted. Ana was fast. Soon she was in the green leaves of the trees. Monkeys munched on coconuts as she went by. She saw giant fruits, large nuts, and colorful tree frogs.

“Look how high she is!” cried the kids.

“I will climb even higher!” called Ana.

Suddenly, Hugo felt the sun. He was in a high tower!
Hugo heard a tiny sound. He saw a little animal. “What is that?” he asked.

“It looks like a spotted owl,” said Dad.

Hugo frowned. “Look! The owl has a broken wing. Can we take it with us? We can get help at the bottom.” His dad said yes.
“It’s a long way down, Dad. How can I keep the owl safe?”

Dad said, “Well, the people who lived here long ago carried babies on their backs. They used flat boards or baskets.”

Hugo said, “I know what to do!”
Hugo got his backpack. He put the owl inside it. “Stay safe,” he whispered.

Then Hugo led the way down. He did not slip on the ladder. He did not bump the walls of the tunnel. He did not trip on the path.

Sometimes you hear or read a word you do not know. You can ask questions about the word to find out what it means.

Here are some questions you can ask:

- What clues can I find in the other words?
- What clues can I find in the pictures?

Finding the meaning of new words can help you understand an information book.
Have you ever heard of a fish that can survive outside of water? It sounds like something that is made up.

But one fish is able to do that. It has a special way to stay alive outside of water. It is the lungfish.

This lungfish is on land.
Rainy Season

Lungfish live in Africa. Africa has a rainy season. It is a rainy, wet time of the year.

Lungfish live in small lakes called ponds during the rainy season. They swim and eat and rest like other fish.

This lungfish is in water.
Dry Season

Africa also has a dry season. No rain falls. Ponds dry up. That is when lungfish do something special.

Lungfish burrow into the bottom of the pond. They dig into the mud. They make a cocoon that covers and protects them.

A lungfish makes its cocoon in the mud.
Resting in Slime

The cocoon is filled with sticky slime. It keeps the fish wet so they don’t die.

Lungfish rest in the cocoon during the dry season. It lasts for half of the year. That is a long time to live without water!

A lungfish rests in its slime-filled cocoon.
The Rain Comes Back

Then the dry season ends. Ponds fill with water. The cocoon melts away. It becomes soft and disappears.

I Can Do This

by Peter Scott
“Abby, go in for Emma,” Coach said. “She is hurt.”

Emma was the team goalie. She could not play after she hurt her wrist.

“All right, Coach,” said Abby. She ran onto the soccer field. But she was worried about playing goalie.
Abby’s team was the Wildcats. They were playing the Hawks. The Wildcats were winning by one.

The game was almost over. The Wildcats were excited. They could win!

“I can not let the Hawks score!” said Abby to herself.
Abby stood in goal.

“I can do this,” she thought. She had to keep the Hawks from scoring.

“Watch the ball,” Abby said to herself.

“Don’t let it get past you.”
The game started again. The Hawks had the ball. They quickly kicked it up the field.

A player kicked the ball left, then right. Then she kicked it up high toward the goal.

Abby reached up. She punched the ball hard!
The ball bounced away from the goal. Abby could not believe it. She did it! The Hawks did not score.

The whistle blew. The game was over. The Wildcats won! The team cheered and ran toward Abby.

Abby smiled. Then she cheered, too.
